

Equity Lines in Atlanta

Atlanta mortgages many times have room for an equity line of credit. We can help you get started today.

Atlanta Equity Line Guide

Equity lines are a way to get access to increase in value your home may have realized, without selling the home. Often times the equity lines come with an ATM card, and you only pay interest on the amount which you have borrowed against the equity in your home. The limit is set when you open the line of credit based on an appraisal done by the Atlanta bank offering the line of credit. If you already have a line of credit and would like an increase, you may be able to get one without opening a new line.

Atlanta's own Clark Howard recommends BankRate as a good place for research. For more info from Clark, try this page on his site.